Message from Chairperson

The systematic efforts of Credibility Alliance have enabled it to accredit over 500 NGOs which are now available to various agencies/ organizations for possible partnership.

With the passing of the Companies Act, 2013 and CSR Rules in place, the corporate world is keen to associate with credible VOs/ NGOs. Within this context the expertise gained by CA will be of use to companies interested to work with and support worthwhile grass roots organizations.

India is one of the few countries that took the initiative to evolve, after extensive consensus building within civil society, norms of self- governance. Now those promoted by CA are being practiced by a few hundred voluntary organizations across the country, which are proud to share their accredited status with donors and other stakeholders. It needs to be mentioned that the norms form the basis for due diligence for several philanthropic agencies as well. But the sobering thought is that CA has only reached a small proportion of the groups, many are isolated in the rural hinterland. Its message of transparency and good governance has yet to reach them.

A number of measures are being taken that will enable Credibility Alliance to emerge to the fore. Some deal with updating technology. CA plans on a complete website overhaul and intends to develop a Comprehensive Automation System; a CSR based knowledge system will be established in the website which can be readily accessed by all companies/ Corporates interested in supporting CA accredited NGOs as a part of their CSR expenditure. The effort to accredit large NGOs will increase. A new HR policy is in the process of finalization. Credibility Alliance will launch the second edition of the CSR handbook, which will put it in the major league of experts on issues related to corporate social responsibility. CA intends to organize workshops in major cities after the launch of the book. A donor dialogue day is also planned where representatives of leading agencies will be invited.

The current annual report highlights the first Development Impact report. CA has already brought out the second Development Impact report and is at present working on the third issue that deals with small NGOs under the theme of fighting poverty. These reports show case the nature of the work, the range of programs implemented, by CA accredited NGOs and profiles the assessors who visit the field bases and project sites of the groups working on the ground.

Credibility Alliance's vision and mission are as valid today as they were at the beginning of the decade. The developments unfolding in the public and corporate domains presage an even greater collaboration between them and the voluntary sector. We in the Credibility Alliance set the best practices to innovate and benchmark standards. These have to be in tune with the diversity and heterogeneity of the sector. Much has been accomplished. Still a lot more needs to be done.

About Credibility Alliance

Credibility Alliance (CA) is a consortium of Voluntary Organizations and networks working for the promotion of Good Governance in the Voluntary Sector and enhancement of its credibility in the eyes of the stakeholders. CA intends to promote transparency and accountability in the Voluntary Sector through self disclosure mechanisms. Following a two-year long extensive consultative process involving more than 500 Organizations from across the country, the Alliance emerged as an initiative from within the sector and was registered in May 2004 as an independent, not-for-profit organization. Currently there is very little mechanism within the Sector to give assurance about an organization to its stakeholders and to the donors it works with. As a result, VOs having good track record goes unnoticed. Sector is also generally questioned for lack of accountability mechanism. Credibility Alliance addresses this issue, primarily through Accreditation of voluntary Organizations, which is carried out through a structured process, whereby CA recognizes an organization which complies with the norms developed by CA, which assures that certain basic parameters are in place in an organization.

Credibility Alliance has been working to build and promote self-regulatory frameworks by defining various norms and standards for the Organizations to adhere to, and in doing so help them demonstrate greater transparency and accountability of the overall sector. Credibility Alliance believes that accountability of VOs is the corner-stone of good governance and an important pre-requisite for an effective democratic participatory process. A Voluntary Sector, which is responsive to the needs of the society, is democratic and transparent in its functioning, and is accountable to all concerned. To build the credibility of the voluntary sector through creation and promotion of Norms related to good governance and public disclosure.

Vision

A Voluntary Sector, which is responsive to the needs of the society, democratic, transparent in its functioning, and accountable to all concerned.

Mission

To build the credibility of the voluntary sector through creation and promotion of norms related to good governance and public disclosure

Objectives

A fast emerging voluntary sector in our country is a major contributor in the development of Indian society. Hence, it's but natural that the rapid growth of the sector in terms of its size, number and resources has generated many a question on the credibility of its constituents. Despite this, the existing regulatory bodies in our country have made no efforts to set up adequate mechanisms or processes to assess the credibility of voluntary Organizations in concrete and verifiable terms. Keeping this in view, the Credibility Alliance has been working hard to build and promote self regulatory frameworks by defining various norms and standards for the Organizations to adhere to and in doing so help them demonstrate greater transparency and accountability of the overall sector. This is achieved through:

Establishing norms of transparent governance, based on participation, consultation, and consensus;

Developing and promoting an accreditation system for voluntary Organizations;

Providing capacity building support to Organizations for enabling them to improve conceptual understanding of what governance and finance practices are necessary, what is the existing legal framework, and how to comply with the agreed norms and accountability practices; and Conducting policy advocacy with government, the donors, the corporate sector, the media, and the overall public for ensuring better recognition of the highly credible work being done by the voluntary Organizations.

Core Values of Credibility Alliance

Credibility Alliance is committed to a set of Values that have evolved over time. The Norms Committee in association with Alliance member organizations has developed these Values as a guiding principal for strengthening the unity among voluntary organizations in India. In particular, the meeting helped the assessors to i) gain greater clarity on their roles and responsibilities in the Accreditation process; and ii) understand the emerging gaps in the assessment process and the areas of improvement.

National Consultation

National Consultation is organised by CA annually:

During the reporting year, various Capacity Building initiatives were undertaken by Credibility Alliance:

In order to debate on the emerging issues in the development sector and to enable sharing of experiences, knowledge and perspectives, CA organized a National Consultation of 2014 on “Consultation on CSR - Bridge between Corporates & NPOs – 2014” at India International Centre, New Delhi on 25th June, 2014.

Mr. Bhaskar Chatterjee & Smt. Gayatri Subramaniam, Sr. Consultant School of CG & PP & Convener, IICA, presided over as the Chief Guest of the event. Dr. K.K. Upadhyay & Mr. Mathew Cherian presided over as the Guest of Honour of the event.

The Consultation was attended by about 167 participants, which includes eminent persons from the Voluntary Sector and Corporates as well. It also included participation of IICA, HelpAge, World Bank, Global Compact Network, FICCI, CAF, DCCW, Child Fund, VANI, Coca-cola India, TISS, Ford Foundation.

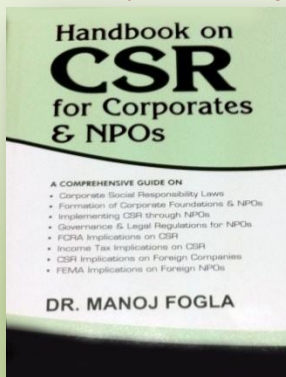

Ms. Gayatri Subramaniam, was speaking on behalf of Bhaskar Chatterjee Director General IICA. She addressed that after the passage of Companies Act 2013, there is a paradigm shift in the development initiatives of Corporate Sector. Companies are being expected to take responsibility for the impact they are making in the society and environment. NGOs or the implementing agencies need to improve transparency to counter negative stereotype and professionalized management process but they need help to do this. As per the size of CSR space today there are around 14000 companies which fall within the ambit of sec 135. Around 20,000 crore in total will be spent by Corporates each year on CSR and currently there are 33 lakh registered NGOs in India. Around 10 lakh are fully functional. At least 1 lakh NGOs with good track record is required to carry CSR Practices. The Vision of IICA envisages holistic Think tank capacity building and service delivery institutions operating through effective partnerships with Corporate Professionals and Institutions & focusing on problem solving through Action Research creating synergy between various elements of the implementing agencies & Corporates to take CSR journey ahead would be a crucial step. Corporates are looking for NGO's who are transparent & practices good governance.

Mr. Mathew Cherian addressed by congratulating CA for completing 10 years. He then discussed about the history of CA by stating that in 2001, 35 consultations were organized in far flung areas of India and 4000 NGOs agreed that there should be Norms among VO's. He then stated that NGOs needs to become more transparent. We need to reach out much more. CA has not reached adequate numbers but we have aimed to reach there for which we have been setting higher goals. We need to educate Corporate also as they follow their own standards and they won't let others to follow the agenda as according to their wish and most of the Corporate will be directive. Comparing work of two NGO's is not a very easy task and some way needs to be found out. Transparency needs to be followed by the NGO's like to putting Accounts on websie.

This was followed by release of two publications

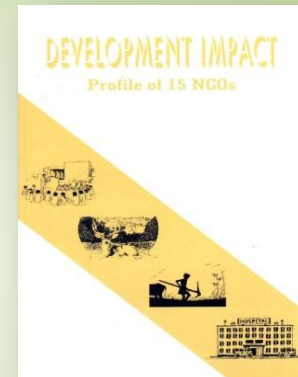

Handbook on CSR for Corporates & NPOs”

Handbook on CSR for Corporates & NPOs published on 25th June, 2014

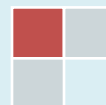

India is probably the first country to enact a law mandating Corporate Social Responsibility as a part of Companies Act, 2013. The intent of the Government is laudable. However, the implementation of such laws is likely to present many practical, procedural and controversial problems which will need to be tackled with a degree of imagination. The laws governing the Not for Profit Organizations have also been drastically changed in the recent past. Implementing CSR is a multi-faceted issue which requires an understanding of various laws and rules applicable to companies and NPOs in India. Moreover, many large NPOs in the country have more than 50% foreign shareholding that are subject to specific regulations. This book provides a lucid and detailed analysis of the following:

- ✓ Corporate Social Responsibility Laws
- ✓ Formation of Corporate Foundations & NPOs
- ✓ Implementing CSR through NPOs
- ✓ Governance & Legal Regulations for NPOs
- ✓ Foreign Contribution Regulation Act's implications on CSR
- ✓ Income Tax Implications on CSR
- ✓ CSR Implications on Foreign Companies
- ✓ Foreign Exchange Management Act's implications for
- ✓ Foreign NPOs

This First edition of the “Handbook on CSR for Corporate & NPOs” is a humble effort to compile the various legal issues pertaining to CSR in India. It also makes an effort to explain the various key registration, governance and management issues pertaining to NPOs. This handbook should help the Corporate, Corporate Foundations, other NPOs, consultants, auditors, etc. in understanding the various governance and legal issues in a simplified form.

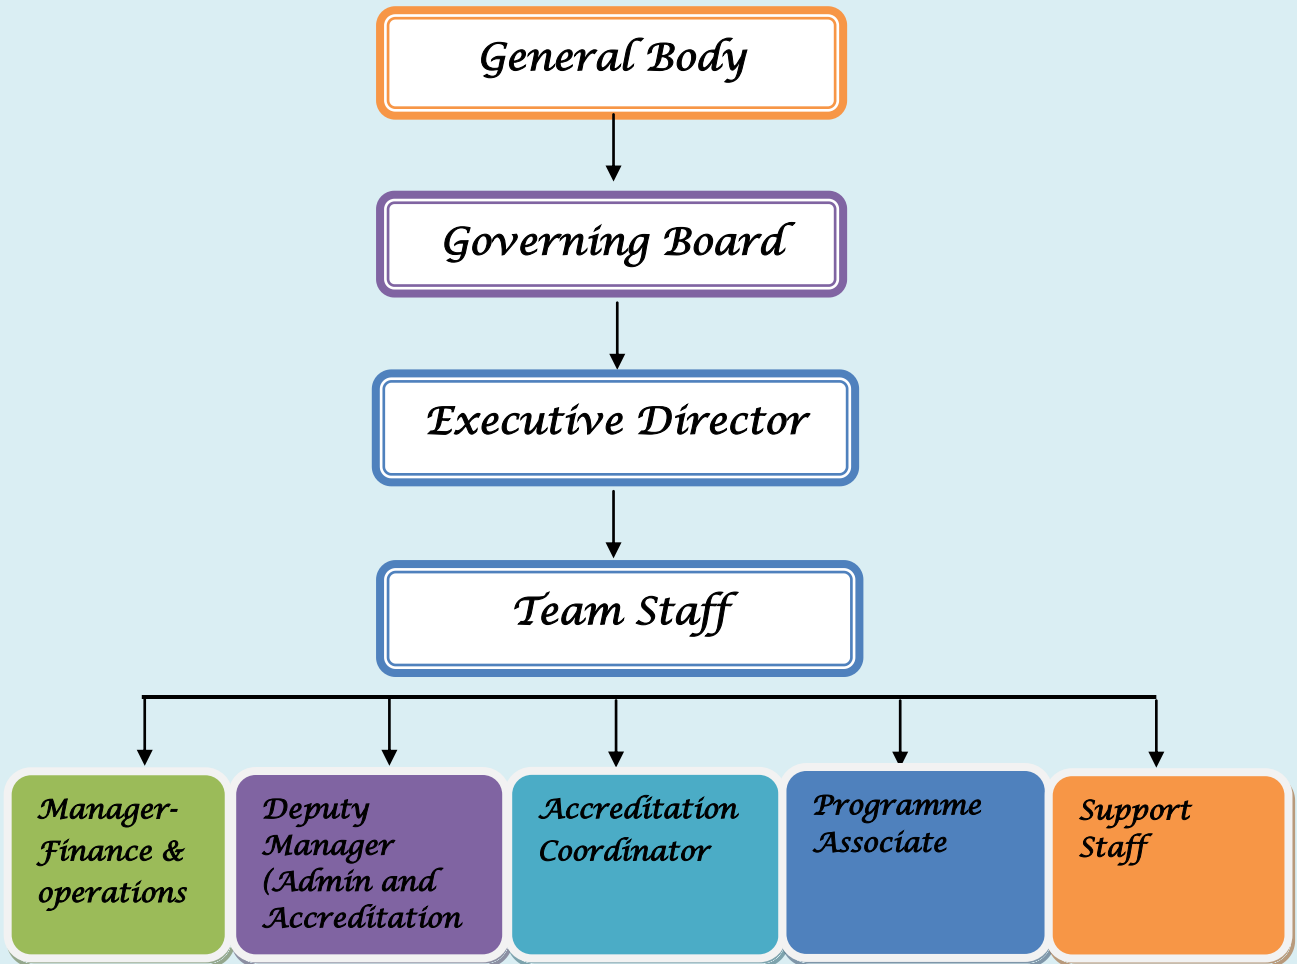

“Development Impact” Profile of 15 NGOs published on 25th June, 2014

One of the exciting aspects of being a member of the Central Accreditation Committee of Credibility Alliances that during the course of examining the documents of the NGOs presented to the committee, one comes across a group that is doing good work on the ground, even remarkable work. “The profile of the NGOs in this publication has been culled from their annual reports which the committee goes through along with other documents to ascertain whether the NGO is following the “Minimum” or “Desirable” Norms with regard to governance, transparency and other related issues. The committee lays much store by the report of the assessors who visit the field projects of the NGO, a central dimension of the Accreditation process followed by Credibility Alliance. For the larger groups, with a budget of Rs 1 crore and more two assessors are assigned. For the medium category [Rs 25 lakhs to Rs 1 crore] and small [Rs 25 lakh and less] a single assessor does the job. What struck us was how little we knew about most of these NGOs, working silently in the remote reaches of the country.
